Entrepreneurial Journey

Mike believes technology helps innovate a new future, accelerates growth potential and scales business. According to Mike, "technology unlocks our future and is a fundamental driver of our success." It's his belief in technology and people that spurred him to founding DigitLab.

DigitLab has grown to be one of South Africa's premier digital marketing agencies and was voted one of South Africa's best Digital Agencies in 2012. DigitLab provides services in Social Media, SEO, Advertising, Digital Research, Mobile App and Web Development. The agency is proud to include a variety of national and international brands on their client list including KPMG, Nedbank, Alexander Forbes, Beiersdorf and City Lodge.

In 2015 Mike launched The Digitlab Academy; to educate marketers and support the academic industry with sound digital strategy education material. A powerful partnership with Vega, School of Branding, saw over 150 people run through the academy in its first quarter. Today The DigitLab Academy educates over 1000 people a year.

Digital Swarm, a nationwide digital community that fuels the growth of the digital marketing industry is another brainchild of Mike's. The swarm hosts quarterly events in Durban and JHB and has attracted speakers from SA's top brands like KFC, AXE and Google.
